

Dear Mom and Dad;

For everything you've ever done for me, I would like to thank you from the bottom of my heart. You both make such sacrifices for me, and you go to such great lengths to try to give me all that I want. Though times do get hard, you never quit, as much as you may want to.

For the many sacrifices you make for me, the little I do in return is nowhere near enough as compensation. You do your best to send me to the best schools. You do your best to get me the best of everything. But, no matter what happens, you make sure that that never gets in your way of loving me.

Whenever I ask for something, you always try to be understanding and accepting. You are very trusting of me, and you somehow find a way to "deal with me." You often tell me that "this is the hardest age," and sometimes I may not take that in the best way, yet you still try work with me and not against me. You always try to help me with my friends, and with my everyday life. So, all in all I would really like to thank you.

I would like to thank you for numerous things. First of all, I want to thank you for being such great parents; understanding, loving, accepting, trusting, and for trying to not be judgmental about my friends, even if you may not think the most of them. I want to thank you for making so many sacrifices, and for paying so much money to send me to the best schools and to the best places. This includes St. Pius, St. Charles, People to People, and Tae Kwon Do. I know that there have been times when I have wanted to quit Tae Kwon Do, but only because you loved me, you never let me quit, and now I'm very much grateful for that, because I would not be where I am today. I would also like to thank you for all that you give me. You give me things that most people cannot have, and my gratitude cannot be expressed well enough. Finally, I would like to thank you for always being there for me, and for loving me as much as you do. Through the thick and through the thin, you have always supported me as well as you could and your love for me has never ended.

So, I would really like to say how much I really do love you! I know I'm not easy to deal with at times, but I will promise to always try my best, and do my best at giving back to you. As you always try to understand me, I will start trying to do the same. Things were different at the time you were a teenager, but I need to understand that you are always trying very hard, and I have to accept that. Without out you two helping and caring for me each day, I don't know where I would be. I don't know what I could do without you. I have gained such a great respect and admiration for you mom and dad, and I want you to know that I will never lose that. No matter what happens, and what becomes of you and me, I will always love you with all my heart.

I love you!!!

Love,
Brittini Romero
